20. [redacted] LEGISLATION Contacted James MacRae, OMB, to find out if he had any information on proposed Administration amendments to S. 305, a bill to expand corporation reporting requirements and to outlaw foreign bribery. Staffers on the Senate Committee on Banking, Housing and Urban Affairs received such a paper last week and inquired of Stan Taylor, Senator Jake Garn's (R., Utah) designee on the Senate Select Committee on Intelligence, why the Agency's proposed amendments were not reflected therein. Mr. MacRae indicated he was aware of this paper which was pulled together by the Treasury Department subsequent to Treasury Secretary Blumenthal's testimony before the Banking Committee on 16 March. He indicated further that he thought the Treasury Department had been made aware of our concerns but had not included them in the Administration's proposals because of their sensitivity and our own independent approaches to the Congress.

21. [redacted] LEGISLATION Contacted Bill Buell, Legislative Aide to Senator Adlai Stevenson (D., Ill.), to find out whether or not the Senator was up to speed on our problems with S. 305 and, if so, whether he was supportive of our position. Mr. Buell stated he had been in touch with Hal Ford, Senator Stevenson's designee on the Senate Select Committee on Intelligence, and was under the impression that Mr. Ford had briefed the Senator on this matter.

22. [redacted] LEGISLATION In response to my request, Mitchell Daniels, Legislative Aide to Senator Richard Lugar (R., Ind.), said he would check with the Senator to find out if he had any additional questions related to S. 305 based on the material we provided him earlier on this legislation.

23. [redacted] LEGISLATION Spoke with Hal Ford, Senator Adlai Stevenson's (D., Ill.) designee on the Senate Select Committee on Intelligence, who said he had been able to reach Senator Stevenson late Friday regarding S. 305. Mr. Ford said Senator Stevenson understood and supported our position. He also said the Senator may be able to reach Senator William Proxmire (D., Wis.), Chairman of the Senate Committee on Banking, Housing and Urban Affairs, on this matter.
